

Szeged 2008

Drupalcon

Almost closing #drupalcon

Train accident

- Trains are at least 1-2 hours late to Budapest
- If you need to catch a flight go with an earlier train

Start with the bad

- Gábor screwed up with the “internet included” wording (to make stuff consistent)
- This part of the globe it is really not typical to have internet in the price
- “Rooms have modern furniture, television, mini bar, telephone, bathroom. Internet access included.”
- Ouch. Sorry.

Giveaway

Sponsors please
stand up

Volunteers please
stand up

Download recordings

- Go to <http://szegeged2008.drupalcon.org/program/session>
- Find slides and videos there
- Archive.org is processing the uploaded videos to Flash movies

We spent around €70.000 on this Drupalcon

Income and expenses

- Tickets
- Company sponsors
- Individual sponsors

- Swag
- Food
- Venue
- Organizer costs
- Party
- Code sprint

Thanks to a final squeeze, late sponsors and you buying our shirts, we are about to make a small income.

Change for Drupal

- If you have Forints or EUR left
- Find the “Change for Drupal” box at the information desk
- All money goes to the Drupal Association
- Today and tomorrow

Vote for Drupal

- Drupal is a finalist on Packt Publishing's CMS Award this time again
- Overall Open Source CMS category
- Best Open Source PHP category
- Voting starts on September 1st!

Share your moments

Program for tomorrow

- Acquia Partner Day
- Code sprint: pre-organize on the website whiteboard
- Documentation sprint: look for Addison Berry
- Shuttle buses go from the venue, except the first on both days (do check your email)

See you next in...

- The United States
- Exact location: to be announced
- Time: March 2009

Survey on this Drupalcon

- Will be on the Drupal.org homepage
- Come and fill in your opinion

A few words from Dries

